ABOUT SEMINAR:

Entrepreneurship and innovation are increasingly important in all areas of business and government. Entrepreneurial start-ups galvanize the economy by identifying new opportunities and redirecting resources to them.

Established firms innovate in order to outmaneuver or respond to their competition. And in the public sector, the need for effective policies to deal with new challenges and for increasing service delivery with declining budgets also places a premium on innovative thinking.

The seminar focuses on the skills necessary for the planning, development and launch of entrepreneurial and innovative ventures.

SUMMARY OF SEMINAR ON APPLICATION OF TRADEMARK IN BUSINESS

Venue: - Seminar Hall, Malla Reddy College of Engineering

Dated:- 03rd & 04th July 2018

Attendees:- 80 Members from Industry, Academia, MSME and individual entrepreneurs

Objective of the Programme:

Ms.vaishali potnis, stated that A trademark is a unique symbol or word used to represent a business or its products. Once registered, that same symbol or series of words cannot be used by any other organization, forever, as long as it remains in use and proper paperwork and fees are paid. Ms.vaishali potnis also lectured that although a trademark is issued for the life of a company or product, businesses do need to guard against phrases becoming generic. This typically happens over time when people use a company's product name to mean all products or processes like it. To continue to claim that trademark, those companies need to notify people who misuse the term to stop.

ABOUT SEMINAR:

Intellectual property (IP) has emerged as a key driver in knowledge economy. Firms view IP as a valuable corporate asset and a strategic business tool. The future focus of research will be on mutual relationship with academic institutions/university & industry cooperation. It will be how to bring together the disciplines of IP and management & to identify the communication gaps in academic & industries for technology sharing / mutual research etc. It will avoid duplication of research work & will introduce Basic IP education. In Indian contest, most companies and academic institutions under-utilize the IP system & its potential benefit due to lack of awareness of IP system. This is attributed due to complexity of IP system & lack of easily accessible teaching, training and/or professional assistance. The proposed Protection and Utilization of Public funded IP Bill pending before Parliament will imposes obligations & creates rights to optimize the potential of public funded R&D. It will further provide incentive to create IP and mechanism for its protection and utilization,

ABOUT SEMINAR:

Entrepreneurship and innovation are increasingly important in all areas of business and government. Entrepreneurial start-ups galvanise the economy by identifying new opportunities and redirecting resources to them. Established firms innovate in order to outmanoeuvre or respond to their competition. And in the public sector, the need for effective policies to deal with new challenges and for increasing service delivery with declining budgets also places a premium on innovative thinking. The seminar focuses on the skills necessary for the planning, development and launch of entrepreneurial and innovative ventures.
