Introduction

The National Service Scheme (NSS) is built on the NSS Co-Ordinator of “Not Me But You,” emphasizing selfless service for the betterment of society. To celebrate its values and recognize the contributions of its members, the NSS Unit of Malla Reddy College of Engineering (MRCE) organized NSS Formation Day 2025 on September 24, 2025. The day was filled with inspiring activities, thoughtful reflections, and encouragement for the future.

Campus Activities

The celebrations began at 11:00 AM with the NSS Parade in front of the main block, where volunteers showcased discipline and unity. Following this, a sapling plantation drive was organized, symbolizing the commitment of NSS towards a greener and sustainable future. Volunteers also led an enthusiastic slogan rally across the campus, spreading awareness about the mission and values of NSS.

Seminar Hall Session

The formal session was conducted in the Seminar Hall, where an Audio-Visual presentation was displayed highlighting past achievements and upcoming events of MRCE NSS. The session was anchored by Ms. Mrinalini and Mr. Yashwanth, NSS Coordinators, who conducted the proceedings with great enthusiasm.

Speeches were delivered by:

- Shri Davera Manoj Khanna, NSS National Awardee & Chief Guest – inspiring everyone with his journey and vision for NSS.
- Dr. M. Ashok, Principal & NSS Chairman, MRCE – The motto of NSS, “Not Me, But You,” encapsulates the spirit of democratic living and upholds the need for selfless service. It teaches our youth that true growth and education are not just confined to classrooms but lie in understanding the real world—its challenges, disparities, and hopes.
To the young volunteers here, I urge you to continue this journey with the same enthusiasm and humility. The world outside needs leaders who can lead with compassion, listen with empathy, and act with courage.
- Mr. G. Ratnakumar, NSS Program Officer (NSS-PO) – motivating students with his words of guidance Today, as we celebrate this day, we also celebrate the commitment, dedication, and efforts of our NSS volunteers. You have taken part in cleanliness drives, health camps, awareness programs, blood donation, tree plantations, and many other community outreach activities. Through these initiatives, you have not only helped others but also shaped yourselves into responsible, empathetic citizens of this country.
- Alumni NSS Coordinators – sharing their experiences and learnings.

It’s a great honor and an emotional moment for me to be here today as we celebrate NSS Formation Day — a day that brings back countless memories of service, learning, and leadership. As a former NSS Coordinator and now an alumnus of this institution, I feel deeply connected to the values and mission of the National Service Scheme.

NSS has been more than just a platform for extracurricular activities — it was a foundation for life lessons. The motto “Not Me, But You” is not just a phrase; it’s a philosophy.

It taught us that leadership is rooted in service, and that change doesn't always start with governments or policies — sometimes it starts with a small group of volunteers with big hearts.

During my time with NSS, I had the opportunity to lead and participate in various activities — from organizing health awareness camps in remote villages, to cleaning local areas under the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, from blood donation drives to tree plantation campaigns. But more than the events, it was the sense of purpose and unity that made the experience so impactful.

To all current NSS volunteers here:

You are part of something powerful. The work you are doing — no matter how small it may seem — is building your character, your leadership, and your future. You are learning to solve problems, to lead by example, and to make a real difference in society.

Also remember, being a part of NSS is not limited to your college years. The spirit of service should stay with you as you move ahead in your career and life. Whether you become a teacher, a doctor, an engineer, or a civil servant — carry this torch of selfless service with you.

I would also like to thank the current Programme Officers and faculty who continue to guide this movement with commitment and energy. Your support shapes the next generation of responsible citizens.

On this NSS Formation Day, let us renew our pledge to contribute meaningfully to our society. Let us stay true to the NSS motto and keep serving — not just because it's our duty, but because it's our privilege.
