REPORT

The NSS team of Malla Reddy College of Engineering (MRCE) successfully organized a three-day Dental Camp in collaboration with MALLA REDDY INSTITUTE OF DENTAL SCIENCE. The objective of this camp was to provide dental checkups and awareness among faculty and students about oral health and hygiene.

Day 1: Faculty Dental Checkup

- The dental camp bus from Malla Reddy University was stationed at the MRCE campus to provide checkups for the faculty members.
- The faculty underwent a thorough oral examination conducted by expert dentists.
- Detailed consultations were provided, focusing on preventive measures and oral hygiene practices.
- Faculty members were educated about common dental issues such as cavities, gum disease, and tooth sensitivity.
- Personalized recommendations were given, including dietary advice and proper brushing techniques.

- The session was interactive, allowing faculty to ask questions and receive guidance on their dental concerns.
- The checkup camp witnessed active participation from faculty members, showcasing their enthusiasm towards maintaining oral health.

DAY-2 VISIT TO MALLA REDDY INSTITUTE OF DENTAL SCIENCE

A group of 30 students, primarily 2nd-year and a few 4th-year students, traveled to Malla Reddy Institute of Dental Sciences via Malla Reddy University bus.

The students were welcomed by the faculty and dental professionals at the institute.

The checkups were conducted in a structured manner, where students underwent detailed oral examinations, including assessments for cavities, gum health, and general dental hygiene.

Students also received personalized dental care advice and demonstrations on proper brushing and flossing techniques.

The visit included an interactive session where students could ask questions regarding oral health and preventive measures.

The advanced dental equipment and expertise at the institute ensured thorough evaluations and professional recommendation

DAY-3: Continuation of Student Checkups

On the third day, another batch of 30 students, including second-year and a few fourth-year students, visited Malla Reddy University for their dental examinations. The checkups were conducted in a well-organized manner, with students receiving thorough examinations from experienced dentists.

The dentists provided students with oral health tips, preventive care measures, and necessary recommendations for maintaining dental hygiene.

The university staff and NSS team ensured smooth coordination and transport arrangements for the students.

Many students found the experience informative and beneficial, as it helped them understand the importance of regular dental checkups.

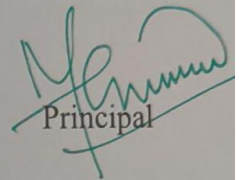

The three-day Dental Camp was a successful initiative by the NSS team at Malla Reddy College of Engineering. The collaboration with
