Program Title:

“Anti-Ragging Awareness Programme for Second-Year Students”

Ragging is a serious issue that affects the mental and emotional well-being of students. To create a safe, friendly, and supportive academic environment, the Anti-Ragging Cell of Malla Reddy College of Engineering organized an Anti-Ragging Awareness Programme for second-year students. The program aimed to educate students about the harmful effects of ragging and to create awareness about strict laws and disciplinary actions against it.

Objectives of the Program

- To create awareness about anti-ragging laws and regulations
- To explain the consequences of ragging
- To encourage students to maintain discipline and mutual respect
- To promote a ragging-free campus environment

Program Details

The programme began with a welcome address by the faculty coordinator, followed by an informative session conducted by members of the Anti-Ragging Committee.

Students were informed about:

- The definition and forms of ragging
- Psychological and emotional impacts of ragging
- Legal consequences and disciplinary actions

The Principal, Dr. M. Ashok, explained the UGC Anti-Ragging Guidelines, helpline numbers, and the procedure for lodging complaints. Real-life examples were shared to help students understand the seriousness of ragging.

An interactive session was conducted where students asked questions and shared their views with Dr. B. Madhavi, Convener of the Anti-Ragging Cell.

Student Participation

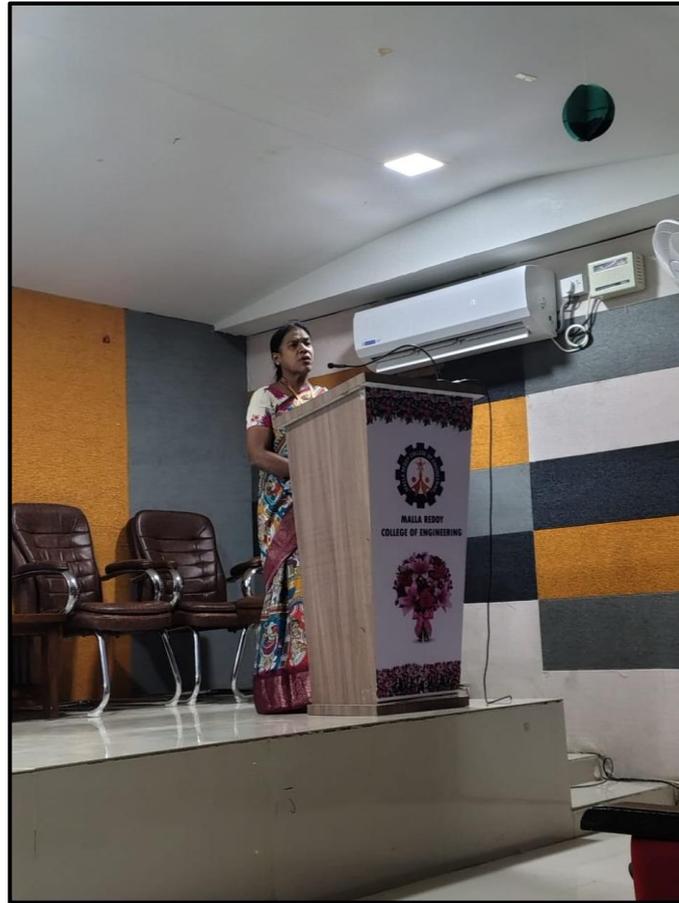

Second-year students actively participated in the programme. They listened attentively and clarified their doubts regarding rules, punishments, and support systems available in the college. The session helped students understand their responsibilities and rights in maintaining a safe campus environment.

Outcome of the Program

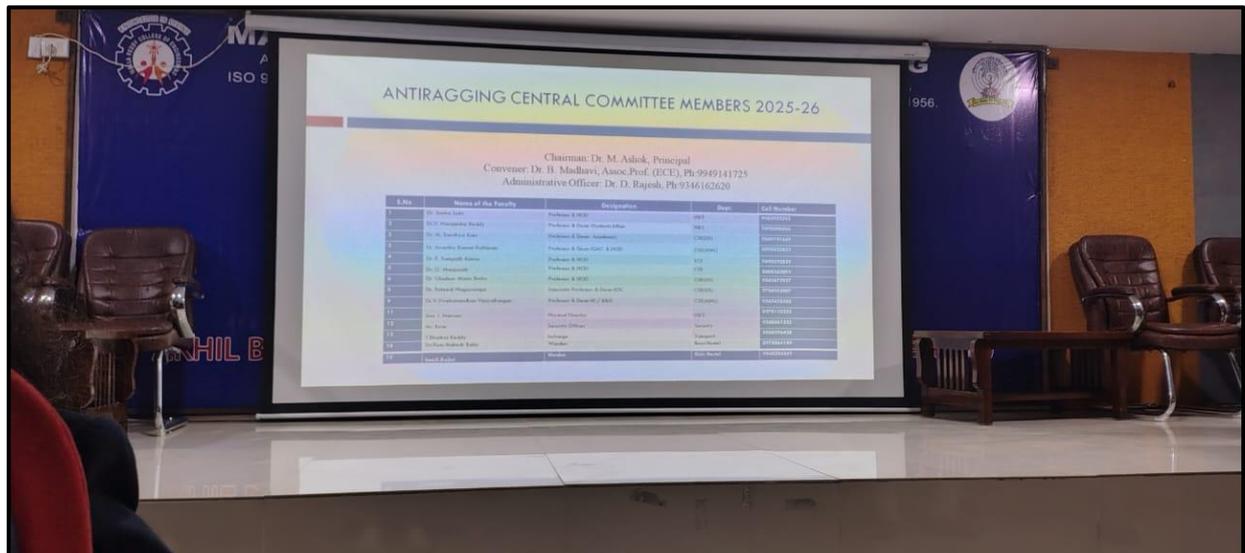

- Students gained awareness about anti-ragging rules
- A sense of responsibility and discipline was developed
- Students were motivated to maintain a friendly and respectful atmosphere
- The importance of reporting ragging incidents was clearly understood

Address by Principal Dr. M Ashok

Address by Dr. B. Madhavi, Convener-Antiragging Cell

Conclusion

The Anti-Ragging Awareness Programme was successful in educating second-year students about the seriousness of ragging and the importance of maintaining a safe campus environment. The programme reinforced the message that ragging is a punishable offense and that everyone must work together to ensure a peaceful and supportive learning environment.
